WILL TAKE HYDE OFF.

Grain Men Angry at Statistician.

They Assert He Holds Out Crop Report.

Will Make Efforts for His Removal This Winter.

America's Most Formidable Fleet to Assemble—Anti-Trust Features.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John Hyde will be again in danger of losing his position as statistician of the Agricultural Department, when Congress convenes. Attempts have heretofore been made to remove him. A supreme effort in that direction will be begun during the coming session.

It is proposed to take away from Hyde the preparation of the monthly report. The speculative interests of New York are leading in a demand for Hyde's removal, but there is also said to be dissatisfaction with his statistical work in the leading western cereal centers, and in the grain, cotton and stock markets of the East.

Grain speculators complain that Hyde refuses to give out the monthly crop report, which is issued on the 10th of each month, before the close of the stock and grain markets. As a result, the figures become available for market uses in London and Liverpool next morning before the American markets are opened. Dealers in cereals request Hyde to adopt a different system of giving out the monthly crop report, and have been refused. This offended them, and they intend coming to Washington next winter, and making a campaign against him.

ANTI-TRUST FEATURES.

LEGISLATION FOR CONGRESS.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is expected that the legislation that is being prepared for the next session of Congress, its vital features will be these: To prevent overcapitalization; to obtain publicity of operation; to enforce uniformity of prices; to establish greater responsibility of officers and directors in corporations.

These features have been thoroughly canvassed by the Attorney-General and the President, and are being considered in crystalline form. Direct recommendation to Congress will appear in the President's message. The bill will be referred to the Judiciary Committee of the House and Senate, where it is believed will receive sympathetic consideration. Amendments to the Sherman anti-trust law and to the interstate-commerce law, embodying the above purposes will be enacted before the Fifty-seventh Congress adjourns.

ILLITERATE CHILDREN.

FIGURES FROM CENSUS OFFICE.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Census Office has issued a statement giving a compilation of figures regarding illiteracy among children of immigrants and children of natives. The statement says:

Confining the comparison to children between the ages of 10 and 14 years in the United States, 94.6 of the native white children of native parents and 90.1 per cent. of the native white children of foreign-born parents are able to read and write. This surprising difference in favor of the children of the native-born population is due largely to the fact that the children of foreign-born immigrants live mainly in the Northern and Western States, where the public-school system has already reached a high degree of efficiency. While great numbers of the children of native white parents live in the Southern States and that region, about 10 per cent. of such children are illiterate.

"When the comparison is carried out by geographic divisions, the difference between the two classes in each part of the United States, except the South Atlantic States, is found to be much less than in the whole country. Yet these figures indicate that in every region except the North Atlantic States, the illiterate children of immigrant whites are a larger percentage of the whole number of such children than the illiterate children of native whites are of all children of native whites."

HE TURNS TO CANADA.

Bryan Locates His Promised Land.

Joins in Movement to Shift Americans.

Three Million Acres Involved in Pending Transaction.

Domination Government Anxious to Effect the Agreement.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is officially announced that negotiations are proceeding between the Ontario government and a number of Americans for the purchase of 2,000,000 acres of land in the rich agricultural and wooded section known as New Ontario. The Americans interested include William Jennings Bryan and Judge U. S. Williams. Their idea is to take out patents, divide the land into townships and then induce settlers from various parts of the United States to go in.

While the government is anxious to effect an agreement, trouble has arisen regarding questions of relative safeguarding of provincial interests and rights of settlers other than those to be brought in under the plan mentioned. It is therefore expected that there will be some delay, but an eventual agreement is confidently expected.

FIGHTING AND DISEASE.

MANY COLOMBIANS DYING.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] KINGSTON (Jamaica) Oct. 26.—[By West Indian Cable.] The German steamer Hercules reached here today from Colon, Colombia. "Hercules" reports that considerable fighting is going on in the interior of that country, the revolutionists taking advantage of the withdrawal of government troops for service in the interior.

At Savannah, the government soldiers are dying at an alarming rate from fever. While the Hercules was moored at Savannah, there were on the pier the bodies of several soldiers who had died there, and the remains had not been removed. Disease is rife on that side of the coast. The ship's officers had to check their own cargo at Savannah, and do other work there. The situation on the isthmus remains the same.

WON'T STAND BY OSCAR.

French Diplomats Displeased by the Swedish King's Findings in the Samoan Controversy.
PARIS, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Unofficial information received in diplomatic circles here fully confirms the accuracy of the statement cabled from Washington to the judgment received from the King of Sweden, and has called forth various comments. It is natural that in the present frame of the French mind, just after the jubilee conference in London of the anniversary of Lord Nelson's victory over Admiral Villeneuve at Trafalgar, a decision unfavorable to England would be soothing to French sensibilities. From this point of view the Nationalist and reactionary press, such as the Autorite, the Patrie and the Liberte, record the decision of King Oscar with unqualified delight.

MAN AND MONEY MISSING.

Ticket Agent Flagg at Texas Junction, Ill., is Supposed to Have Been Murdered by a Robber.
CARBONDALE (Ill.) Oct. 26.—Frank M. Flagg, ticket agent of the Illinois Central road at Texas Junction, is missing, and the contents of the money drawer are also gone. It is alleged that robbers entered the office, killed the agent, took the money and put the body in the Big Muddy river. Trainmen say they saw someone prowling around the building before Flagg disappeared. The amount of money is believed to have been $250.

SCORES POLITICAL PARTIES.

"Golden Rule Jones" Aims His Views at Chicago—Has Praise for the President's Action in Settling the Strife.
CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Political parties were scored at a meeting here tonight of the Chicago Philosophical Society by Samuel M. Jones, the "Golden Rule" Mayor of Toledo. He characterized the whole party system as "childish, immature and imbecile." Reference to the President in relation to bringing about a settlement of the coal strike brought forth applause.

"The President became more than the President," he said—"he became a man. The coal strike, in 1902, will be found in the future to have made the largest contribution to the cause of human liberty of anything since Lincoln signed the emancipation proclamation."

DOWN A BIG CHIMNEY.

Young Charles Henley Leaves His Happy Home in California to Travel With an Opera Company.
DENVER, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henley (the bride was Marion Badger) are members of the Tivoli Opera Company, chorists of San Francisco. They are now in Denver with the Tivoli company, but even the other members of the chorus do not know the secret that the young couple has carefully guarded for a month.

Young Charles Henley was a social favorite in his home, and had every social and educational advantage that money could give. One day the young man shocked his family by declaring his intention to go on the stage. His parents refused to listen to him, but he joined the Tivoli company. A member of the chorus with Henley, Miss Marion Badger of San Francisco. She was dark-eyed, petite and pretty. Miss Badger has been a member of the company for some time, and like Henley, was seeking stage experience. She was possessed of a beautiful voice, and held the "Nordica" scholarship in a New York musical college.

SMELTING TRUST COMMITTEE.

Changes Elected to Give Young Men a Chance for Promotion and an Opportunity to Help the Business.
DENVER, Oct. 26.—It is announced, after a four-day conference of the officials of the American Smelting and Refining Company, that the Western Executive Committee has been abolished, and that in the future the interests of the company in Colorado will be looked after by James B. Grant and Dennis Sheedy of Denver, who are characterized as western, or resident, members of the Executive Committee. Hereafter, the Eastern Executive Committee, which was the main governing body, will be known simply as the Executive Committee. Franklin Gutierrez will be general manager of the Colorado plants, and Karl E. Eilers will act as his assistant. Edgar L. He was also Tao-tai of Shanghai during the period of the Boxer rising. He is said to be greatly disliked by foreigners.

BLOCKS UNDER WATER AT BRUNSWICK, GA.

BRUNSWICK (Ga.) Oct. 26.—As a result of continued heavy rains for forty-eight hours, five blocks in the center of this city are under water tonight, and heavy damage has been done. In Newcastle street, one of the principal business streets in the city, the water has risen into the stores, and is from ten to fifteen inches deep. The city fire department house is under water. The jails are flooded, and from Bay to Union streets, a distance of a quarter of a mile, traffic is impossible.

The Brunswick Electrical Supply Company has been put entirely out of business by the water, and not a light furnished by that concern is burning tonight. A heavy northeaster has prevailed for two or three days, and the only reason assigned by mariners for the downpour is that these rains contributed their share to the deluge. Railroad traffic has been badly interfered with, and several washouts are reported.

AT THE CITY'S GATES

EAST LOS ANGELES.

The very latest idea in regard to boulevard routes between the Angel City and the Crown of the Valley is proposed by G. W. Glover of the South Pasadena, who advocates a route through the Estudillo rancho. This plan is the subject of a meeting at the Cawson residence property at Lincoln Park, which took place on Wednesday evening last. The plan is to run a boulevard from the Estudillo rancho, through the hill just south of the Cawson residence, and continuing down the valley to the upper end of Downey avenue or to Eastlake Park. The claims for this route are that it would avoid the street car lines after leaving Pasadena avenue, and the grade would be easier while the route would be the shortest yet proposed.

PICO HEIGHTS.

For some time past the citizens of Pico Heights have been anxious that some steps should be taken to prevent the building of a new residence on the tract of land on the north side of Seventeenth street and a burial ground. quality goods, and we are able to make them at a price that is not to be beaten. There is no object in a stranger, who is always a customer, dropping in at a store and paying to twenty per cent more for the same article.

Ours is the only cash store of the kind in Los Angeles. Every article is sold with the distinct understanding that the customer will get the best value for his money. If you are not

Doctor Harrison Treats Men's Diseases Only.

17 Years a Specialist, 9 Years in Los Angeles, Office Entire 2d Floor, 112 Main.

MEN, have a grand and glorious system of painless treatments that I have developed and perfected which will cure any case of men's dieases that is curable. I invite in particular all men who have become dissatisfied with treatment elsewhere to call on me and receive a free examination and diagnosis.

The best evidences of my skill are the many new patients who come to me

daily through the personal recommendation of men whom I have permanently cured in days gone by.

DOCTOR HARRISON

WEAKNESS—Causes many men to think that life is not worth living. If you feel that you are gradually growing weaker day by day, you owe it to yourself to come to me.

My pleasant method of treatment renews strength and creates a desire for longevity. Weakness is caused usually by overwork, varicocele, enlarged, inflamed prostate, results of abuses and excesses, and often from badly-treated disorders.

When I restore a patient to his full manly vigor the restoration is permanent.

VARICOCELE—Medical statistics show that four out of every ten men have varicocele. This vitally-sapping derangement produces a bunch of large knotted and twisted veins on the left side and causes a constant weariness and a painful dragging-down feeling. The unaffected side will gradually show more and more sympathy, until at last vitality becomes completely lost. I have indisputable proof of hundreds of successful operations that I have performed right here in Los Angeles. I guarantee a perfect cure in 7 to 10 days. My treatment for varicocele is original and scientific. I use no knife, no ligature, caustic or electricity.

HOW THE TIMES TREATS LABOR.

THE LOS ANGELES TIMES regularly pays to its skilled, reliable and acceptable workmen wages that average from $2.75 to $4.50 per day for time work, and from $4 to $5.50 per day for piece work. These rates are higher than are paid by any competing newspaper; and another advance has recently been agreed upon. The Times pays larger sums weekly, monthly and yearly for labor than any journal in all the Southwest. Its cash disbursements on this account between August, 1890, and the end of September, 1901, aggregated $9,070,000.81, and its annual expenditures for labor of all classes, both skilled and unskilled, now average more than $75,000 per year. There never has been any attempt, in any quarter, to deny these specific and telling facts, and the proprietors challenge such denial if made. Not for years has the Times had any trouble with its workmen, who are independent of unions, loyal to their employers and themselves, well satisfied and prosperous. The Times controls its own business in its own way, subject only to the laws of the land; and no interference with that control can be lawfully or justly made. The result of its fixed policy has proven highly beneficial to all concerned, and the justness and correctness of its course have for years past received public approval in most marked and conspicuous ways, the circulation and advertising patronage of the paper steadily and largely outstripping that of all local rivals.

THE TIMES-MIRROR COMPANY.

Since no attempt whatever has ever been made in any quarter to refute, or even dispute, the accuracy of the foregoing authoritative statements, our devoted maligners are stopped; and the public is amply warranted in giving no credence to contemporary hostile assaults upon the Times management in the matter of its relations to its workmen, or vice versa. Falsehood must yield to truth.

A BILLION ORANGES.

A few days ago The Times published an interesting article on the orange crop of Southern California, showing, in graphic manner, what a big thing this industry is. Estimating the coming crop at 20,000 carloads, this is shown to be equivalent to one thousand ordinary freight trains, of twenty cars each. A solid train of this size would be 155 miles long, or sufficient to reach from Los Angeles to San Diego, and fifteen miles across the Mexican line. The oranges contained in these 20,000 carloads would amount to the immense number of 1,000,000,000. This, it is estimated, is sufficient to afford every man, woman and child in the United States fifteen and a half oranges apiece.

After all, this is not such a very big allowance, when we consider how wholesome and easily digestible a fruit is the orange. It only represents about one orange to each person every two weeks, during the six months of the year when there is little other fruit in the market. To this allowance must be added the imported oranges, and the crop of Florida, but under favorable conditions we should soon be able to drive the European fruit out of the market, and the Florida crop does not amount to much nowadays, nor will it probably ever again assume the importance it once possessed.

By a little judicious advertising on the part of the orange growers, for the purpose of educating the public on the hygienic value of the orange, it should be easily possible, within the next few years, to find a ready market for at least twice 20,000 carloads of California oranges, without exporting any of them to foreign countries.

MAKE UNIONS RESPONSIBLE.

A bill is to be introduced at the next session of the Massachusetts Legislature requiring that trade unions shall be incorporated under the laws of the State. The movement, it is stated, has grown out of the anthracite coal strike. If this be true, and if the movement be extended to other States, the anthracite coal strike will not have been in vain.

There is no valid reason why trade unions should not become regularly incorporated bodies. There are many valid reasons why they should be requested to incorporate under the laws as other cooperative enterprises generally are required to do. If they assume to act in a body—and the chief object of their organizing is that they may so act—they should be brought under the same regulations and limitations as other bodies of men who, for one purpose or another, find it to their advantage to act in a corporate rather than in an individual capacity. It will not do to have one law for one class of citizens and another law for another. All are equal before the law, all must be required to submit to its restrictions.

As most of the trade unions are now constituted, they are incapable of entering into a contract that has the binding force of validity. Employers who enter into agreements with these organizations have no substantial guaranty that the unions will live up to their part of the agreement. The mere use of dictum of union officers furnishes no such guaranty, as was abundantly illustrated in the iron and steel strike of last year, when Shaffer, president of the Amalgamated Association, officially advised members of that organization to violate their solemn contracts by entering upon a sympathetic strike. Thousands followed Shaffer's directions in this matter, and in doing so showed that the pledged word of their organization was worth no more than if it had been written in the sand. It is not in the least to be wondered at that extensive employers of labor hesitate to enter into agreements with these irresponsible organizations, when they know that such agreements are binding only upon themselves, and so are practically worthless. Labor organizations would gain a distinct advantage through incorporation, for employers would no longer hesitate to recognize and deal with these organizations. If they could be assured that they were entering into a contract with incorporated bodies of men, upon whom a contract would be binding under the law.

Mr. Mitchell professes to desire that a state of affairs shall be brought about in which there shall be mutual respect, confidence and good-will between the mine owners and the mine workers' organization in the anthracite coal fields. If he is sincerely desirous of such a consummation he should at once take steps for the incorporation of the miners' organization under the laws. This would be the surest way to accomplish a realization of the conditions which he professes so ardently to desire.

NEEDED IMPROVEMENTS.

On Wednesday next will be held a municipal election to determine whether the city shall issue bonds to the amount of $2,150,000—$1,000,000 to be expended for sewers, $100,000 for storm drains, $150,000 for improvements and additions to the city hall, and $100,000 for a polytechnic high school, and $100,000 for bridges. All of these improvements are needed, and in the opinion of The Times should be voted by the people as a matter of expediency and self-interest. If for no other reason.

The total amount of money called for by the proposed bond issues is large. It is true. But the interests and needs of the city of Los Angeles are also large, and they are constantly growing larger. The proposed improvements, if entered upon at once, would no more than suffice to meet the growing requirements of the city. We should build for the future as well as for the present. And as we are to build for the future, it is no more than just that the future should be able to bear the expense of the benefits which it is to share. The taxable property of the city is increasing, and is bound to continue increasing, at such a rate that the proposed bonds will not add appreciably, if at all, to the general tax rate.

The proposed bonds will be worth vastly more to the city than the cost of the several improvements. It is not so much a matter of relative cost, however, as of necessity. The sewers are a necessity from a sanitary point of view. Only about one-half of the city is at present supplied with sewer accommodations. A considerable portion of the city cannot be connected with the present outfall sewer, which is, in fact, undergoing deterioration at a rate which will render it practically useless within a few years. The storm drains are as necessary as the sewers, in fact, undergoing deterioration at a rate which will render it practically useless within a few years. Thousands followed Shaffer's directions in this matter, and in doing so showed that the pledged word of same is virtually true regarding the proposed expenditure of $200,000 for a polytechnic high school. The present High School is greatly overcrowded, with the prospect that the congestion will be much increased before the new polytechnic high school can be completed, should the bonds be voted. Not less pressing than the necessity for expenditure above mentioned is that for bridges. The present structures are out of repair, and will soon become an absolute menace to public safety unless the needed repairs be made. Several new bridges are also needed, and should be built as soon as possible.

It is thus apparent that the proposed expenditures are for much-needed public improvements; hence that the proposed bond issues should carry by the necessary two-thirds majorities.

NOT THE ONLY PEBBLE.

We Californians are sometimes inclined to suppose that it is about the only important fruit-producing State in the United States. Such is far from being the case. For instance, a recent dispatch from Austin, Tex., refers to the wonderful growth of the fruit and vegetable industry in that great State, as shown by the records of shipments handled during the past year by the different railroads of the State. These shipments were consigned for the most part to St. Louis, Kansas City and Chicago, while scattering carloads went to New York and distant markets in the North and East. Five years ago there were fewer than fifty carloads of fruits and vegetables shipped from Texas to outside markets. Shipments for the season just closed aggregated 5775 cars, according to data furnished the State Department of Agriculture by several railroads.

There are some branches of the horticultural industry in which California meets with little or no competition, such as the raising of oranges, lemons, walnuts, olives, apricots and raisin grapes. When it comes, however, to such fruit as apples and peaches, we must expect a constantly-increasing competition from other parts of the country, most of which sections have the advantage of cheaper freight rates to the points where the fruit is marketed.

This brings us to another important subject, to which reference has been previously made in these columns, namely, the importance of carefully packing our fruit products for shipment. Serious complaints have been received by the Chamber of Commerce from the East and Europe regarding the manner in which much of our canned fruit has been put up of late. This seems to be a case in which a trust or combine has not worked advantageously. It is asserted that the leading fruit canneries of the State has, for the sake of reducing expenses, discharged some of its old and experienced employees, replacing them with cheaper men. This is a very short-sighted policy, and is bound to be followed by unpleasant results, not only to the fruit-packing people, but to the State at large. A firm which sends out California fruit products—or, indeed, any other California product—in a slovenly and unsatisfactory manner, is a public enemy. It is not only a disgrace to the State, but it is a disgrace to the industry it handicaps, but it cannot be expected to do this unless it is able that it should be expected—if care is not exercised in preparing the fruit for market. It is an easy thing for a man, or a firm, or a State to lose a good reputation, but it is a very hard thing indeed to regain it.

Another of the evils of Los Angeles, and one that has been remarked upon in these columns again and yet again, is the ragged and unkempt condition of the vacant lots, that are a continuous eyesore in all parts of the city. Now that the tourist season is near at hand a decided movement for "slicking up" and putting our best foot forward is most desirable. Our natural beauties and attractions are not enough, in themselves. We ought to, at least, help nature out by keeping the waste places within the city limits free of rubbish, weeds, and other material offensive to the eye, if not to the public health. If property owners will not perform this duty of their own motion the city should do it, and the cost should be assessed against the property. This would bring the neglectors to time, may profit.

Secretary Rott has approved a substitute for the army canteen, but as it is to be installed in the midst of the drought, the boys will probably continue to find the deadfalls that surround every camp and barracks where soldiers are stationed. When the lads at arms begin "spitting cotton," you know the result. At the same time, the action of Secretary Rott looking to the establishment of places of innocent amusement and recreation for the men of the army is commendable in the highest degree. The sum of camp is a tremendous draught on the spirit of young and active men. If the government can save the men from themselves no effort should be considered too great. There isn't one of the boys who isn't worth saving.

Now that we have had a rainfall, the pedestrian is in position to make affidavit that the untrammelled trees along the sidewalks of Los Angeles are an unmitigated nuisance, if they never were before. Although there was a rumor about some days ago that a tree-trimming campaign was to be inaugurated, there is no evidence, in many parts of town, at least, that a commencement has been made. The low-hanging branches switch one in the face as he passes along the concrete walks of the city, and when they rest, they have been, more or less, for three days past, he gets a bath at the same time. The tree-trimming raid should be entered upon instantly.

In the Fresno oil-machine case the honorable court has decided that the city has the right to prohibit the use of the crooked little robbers. This was determined in Los Angeles years ago, and without delay on the court for an opinion on the subject. But it is just as well to have the matter adjudicated. Fresno has established its right to be called a decent town, in at least one respect. A place where the gambling slot machine is permitted to perform its nefarious work is not a desirable place to bring up children in.

Only about 50 per cent. of the miners who walked out of the Lykens Valley region in Pennsylvania will get their old places back. The output of martyrs is quite as large as in the case of previous strikes. That

At the Churches Yesterday.

Prisoners of Poverty.

At Christ Episcopal Church, yesterday morning, Rev. Dr. George Thomas Dowling delivered the second sermon in the series on "Some Social Studies from Christian Standpoints." The topic of the discourse was "Wasted Lives or Prisoners of Poverty," and he selected for his text Matthew 13:36. "When He saw the multitude, He moved with compassion on them, because they were harassed, and abandoned, as sheep having no shepherd."

He began by stating that this was a literal translation of the words of our Lord. It was undoubtedly a correct description of the condition of the poor, and that when St. Bartholomew's church established a pawnshop that the poor might receive loans with moderate interest, it was discovered that in some instances from 25 to 100 per cent. had been charged by the professional pawnbrokers. He spoke of the hundred and thirty thousand people who are receiving for ten hours' work 60 cents a day, and calling attention to the fact that similar conditions exist in all the land, he asked: "Whether we can lay our hands upon the exact cause or not, I believe that every man with a heart in him, must feel that there is something radically wrong with a social system which renders such things necessary, or even possible. And he asked, 'What can we do?'"

He affirmed that his effort in this series of discourses was not to deal in rules, but principles. The legitimate function of the pulpit was not to deal with legislation; but that which lies back of all legislation; the ethical moulding of public opinion. This was Christ's method. He did not furnish a bunch of keys, one for every door in life, but a single key, which, if properly applied might unlock them all. He suggested four steps toward a better condition of social relations. First, organization. This was power for one class, it meant less power for another, and was just as legitimate in one instance as in the other. Organization would lead to the second step: agitation. He said: "If there is any proceeding in the community which degrades, which degrades the proper sort, we may take it for granted that it is because that proceeding loves darkness rather than light, because its deeds are evil, and fears to come to the light lest its deeds shall be exposed. # Lookouts Win Close Final Game--Russell-McVey Fight Excites Interest--Notes.

HAS BEEN END SERIES BY BEING BLANKED.

GAME WAS A GOOD ONE THOUGH NOT SENSATIONAL.

Lookouts were lucky enough to earn one run by hitting both pitchers. They were very effective at critical times. Big audience present.

Los Angeles, 1; San Francisco, 0.

Whatever may have been the kind of baseball put up on the local diamond the past week, the game yesterday was all that any fan could ask for. Snappy playing, fine catches, few hits and fewer runs and a big crowd of over 4000 people were the distinguishing features.

There was nothing sensational in this contest, for players that have been through a long, hard season, and are tired, do not generally have a full head of steam up. It was a fine game, just the same, but one error was made on each team and one of these was excusable.

It was the last game the Hiss Beens will play here this season, and to round off the season they put in Chimmie, a right-hander, and if Householder had been out of the game no one would have hurt Chimmie's feelings. He was in fine shape and pitched a beautiful game, only losing because the Lookouts managed to earn the only run made by either side. Against Chimmie was Oscar Jones, who had a share of the pitcher's battle the two were engaged in, and, assisted by Householder's hard batting, won out.

The run of the game was secured in the fourth inning. Householder doubled to the center fence just out of reach of Parrott's hands, went to third on Cristall's drive to Burns and out at first, and scored after Reilly's fly-out to Delmas in left field, which, by the way, was something remarkable, was the only chance Delmas had in the entire game.

Both pitchers were very effective and almost every time the ball was slammed out into the field it landed in some man's hands. The shortstops were kept busy, and Jackson was about the only fielder that had any chance to distinguish himself.

There was but little excitement, for both teams put up such a good article of ball that the outs were generally one-two-three in every inning. The big audience merely sat and watched the batmen trying to swipe the ball out of the infield.

That's all there was to it.

The score:

FINAL WEEK OF RACING WILL SHOW GOOD EVENTS.

FIVE MILE HARNES RACE SET FOR SATURDAY.

Various Handicaps Will Be Run This Week--Track Has Dried Out Nicely and is Now in Good Condition--Card For Ladies' Day.

The final week of racing of the present meet will begin today and continue until next Saturday night, the programme to be similar to that of last week.

The special feature for the harness races will be a five-mile race next Saturday for the trotters, an event that will surely prove interesting. The sure starters will be Lady Fair, Foxy Mac, Zebra and McKenna, and it is more than probable that three others will enter.

Judge Horace Egbert, who has been judging the races for the past two weeks, left yesterday morning for San Francisco to do some preliminary work for the races that will begin at Ingleside November 15. His place will be taken by Gen. A. W. Barrett.

The house cranes, hunched disconsolately side by side on the upper story of their seaside resort, gazed sadly at their fellow-tourists passing freely along the water front.

Four cranes were sent south from Senator Clark's private grounds, but one succumbed on route, and the other passed to the invisible flocks the day after its arrival here. It had "rubbed" through the bars of its traveling cage so constantly that its head was hopelessly pecked and lacerated. In this case curiosity killed the cat, but the bird was not a cat.

"Crane" and his mate are well boarded. They live on hamburger in an emergency.

While the odds will doubtless be with the Belmont eleven the game will not be won until time is called at the end of the second half.

RUSSELL-McVEY FIGHT AT OXNARD SATURDAY.

MUCH INTEREST IN THE CONTEST AMONG SPORTS.

Winner Will Be Matched to Go up Against Denver Ed Martin--Discussion as to Merits of Local Fighters May Yet Lead to a Match.

The next event of importance in this end of the State, will be the battle at Oxnard Saturday night between Fred Russell and Sam McVey. Just what the result will be, is hard to guess, for both men are big and strong and determined to win.

Russell has an idea that he will beat McVey in short order, but there are many Oxnard sports who will bet a lot of money that the black man will win. He is really believed to be a willing, ambitious fighter, and probably has a future before him. He beat Russell in a five round fight at Oxnard, but the match was declared off.

This fight will be important in a local sense for the winner will be matched by the Century Club of this city to fight Denver Ed Martin here in December.

The next show that should be given by the Century Club, if its backers follow along the line of public curiosity, is to arrange a double bill made up of four local fighters, who have never yet decided their claims for superiority. These men are Scionon and Burnham, and DeCoursey and Smith.

For the past year, these boys have been familiar figures in the preliminaries of a number of fights, and nothing at all surprising about the fact that they have been determined as to which was the better. For some time a number of sports have been talking of matches between Scionon and DeCoursey, and between DeCoursey and Smith for the same distance. The former two have fought each other, and every morning many are almost good enough for a main event. DeCoursey and Smith are just as much discussed as to their merits.

Local sports have proposed that the Century Club might settle a lot of differences by giving a night night having two such main events, each with a four round preliminary for featherweights as a curtain-raiser. Each one of the four named have given good satisfaction here, and there is little doubt but that such a card would draw a good house.

QUICK DEATH AT FOOTBALL.

Fatal Game Causes Players to Forewear the Deadly Sport.

NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.

STANTON, (Ill.) Oct. 26.—

Edward Schmidt, right tackle in the local football team, was injured in a game today with a St. Louis team and died within ten minutes. The first half was almost completed when Schmidt complained of a pain in his head. A physician was summoned hurriedly, but Schmidt died just as he arrived. The coroner will hold an inquest.

After Schmidt died the St. Louis team, led by their captain, marched to the ends of the field, pulled up the goal posts and burned them. On changing their clothes they added their sweaters and football suits to the fire and announced that there would be no more football games in Stanton.

I Do Not Disappoint My Patients.

The doctor who makes the theories of others go as far as they will, then does the rest of the guessing himself, is bound to fail. Perhaps he expects to fail, but he always does his best, doubtless. The average specialist may do his best and do but little better. I have no theories. Definite knowledge is back of every step in my treatment of a case. I always do my best, and I believe that my best is the best possible. When I have examined a case I know to a certainty just what I will be able to do. Unless I have every confidence in my ability to effect a cure, I decline to treat. By never experimenting, never guessing, and never attempting to do more than I have done thousands of times in the past, I make no mistakes, avoid failures, and disappoint none of my patients.

"Weakness."

A thorough understanding as to the nature of an ailment is the first essential in its successful treatment. Because this essential has been lacking, those functional disorders commonly known as "weakness" have never been permanently overcome by those methods commonly employed among physicians. "Weakness" is not a general term, but designating a toxic system of treatment. It is the result of chronic inflammation or congestion in the prostate gland. This condition exists as a result of early masturbation, or some improperly treated gonorrheal disorder, and requires carefully directed local measures only. By my new scientific methods the prostate gland is quickly restored to its normal state, which results in full and complete return of strength and vigor. My cures are permanent. Because the condition responsible for the functional disorder is entirely removed and I am convinced that no treatment other than my own carefully directed local measures is a radical cure of this ailment possible.

Varicocele.

Too many men delude themselves with the idea that varicocele is no more than an annoying and sometimes painful ailment, and that it has no serious phases. Varicocele endangers functional power, the general health, and even life itself. It affects the processes of waste and repair throughout the organs involved; it often results in a wasting away of the organs themselves. It is a taking ailment upon the nervous system, and is often the chief cause of a general breaking down of the constitution. My treatment for varicocele is entirely original, absolutely certain, and in most instances a cure is accomplished without detaching the patient a single day from his business. The results obtained are in no sense haphazard or temporary, but are absolutely thorough and lasting.

Contracted Disorders.

The importance of quickly curing contracted disorders is being more fully recognized among the medical profession. The tendency of these diseases is to gradually extend backward, involving in a chronic inflammation the most vital centers of the organic system.

The serious results that may follow could scarcely be exaggerated. Safety depends upon absolute thoroughness in the least possible time. I have treated more cases of contracted disorders than any other physician upon the Pacific Coast. My cures are thorough and are accomplished in less time than other forms of treatment require in producing even doubtful results. I employ remedies of my own devising and my treatment is equally effective in both recent and chronic cases.

estate, but that when that fact is established, the burden shifts, and those claiming that such taking and use were by gift of the wife have the burden of establishing such gift.
